WHY COLUMBIA ISSUED BONDS?

Just After Commission Plan is Adopted.

Mayor Gibbes, of That City, In Address At Asheville Stated That Debt Had Been Unattended to by Predecessors—Fair Judgment, Time and Opportunity What City Wants—Not Sound Argument Against Leaving Old System.

The following extracts are taken from a speech by Mayor Gibbes, of Columbia, at Asheville recently. Columbia eight months ago adopted the commission form of government and Mayor Gibbes in his address set forth some of the advantages Columbia was deriving:

"Get your new government in office at the beginning of the fiscal year.

"When a large deficit was turned over to us on our accession in the middle of the year we were upon both horns of a dilemma.

"Had we spent money and increased the deficit the outs would have said that we were recklessly running the city into debt. Since we adopted the sound business plan of financial retrenchment and recuperation before beginning a well considered program of improvement, these same soreheads are criticising us for not spending the very money they failed to turn over to us.

"Verily, when the mind and heart are dull and hard the will is closed to judgment and conviction.

"But such critics are a splendid antidote for sensitiveness."

"Next year we will have the spending of the money from the beginning, and I risk nothing in saying to you that we will have filled up the holes, have built the foundation and have spent $60,000 upon the building before the year is ended. This will be in addition to providing for a bonded debt of $850,000, which we found unattended to when we went into office, and with no possible time in which to arrange for it ourselves before maturity.

"We do not care to find fault with others, but fair judgment, time and opportunity are all we crave for ourselves. Our good people will control the situation and will give us these and we will make good.

"We are becoming too thick-skinned to mind the mouthy carpings of the mentally weak or the morally wicked. These mud-slingers you find everywhere, but they do not count. They even criticise us for trying to cure our criminal drunkards who have been lying in jail and consuming our means and giving no return except trouble and expense to our police and courts again and again as fast as they were released. . . . . ."

"Taking all in all, I can not find sound arguments against the departure from a system which has made American cities a byword of misgovernment the world over and which has put us to shame as compared with the municipal governments in Europe.

"Of course, unworthy individuals may be elected to office under it, but the people always reserve and can apply the remedy for that and any other bad conditions which may arise. . . . . ."

"The personnel of our Columbia aldermen has been generally excellent, but they have been handicapped by a system—the system of work without pay and of local ward politics. We are in the position of the man who thought he was buying a lot with foundations ready for building, but who found excavations below the foundation which he had to fill in before he could begin to build."

NOSE AND CHEEK BONE BROKEN

Yesterday afternoon at the auxilary plant of the Southern Power Company, Jim Siler, a colored man, was badly injured by a brick falling on his face. His nose and cheek-bone were broken. He was carried to St. Leo's hospital.

PLEADS FOR REASON.

Mr. Hood Wants to Have the People View the Matter Dispassionately.

Editor Telegram:

Let us favor the new charter if we reasonably can, because we must admit that the present system of government is crude and inefficient and has, after spending a great deal of money, left us with poor streets, inferior school buildings, a bonded debt of $800,000 and a weak plan of administration.

Do not let us object to the new charter on irrevelant or trivial grounds, but let's insist upon at least a reasonable reason and if this is not furnished, then we should favor it because the present plan is as bad as anything can be and has certainly brought forth poor fruit.

Do not let's object to a good charter because some man who has a job will lose it, or because some one thinks he can get a job some other way than by standing in the open before the people on his merits. The voters want good men and are entitled to their own selection and are as capable of electing them directly as some board is of appointing them second hand.

The closer the voter can get to the man who is working for him, the better the work will be done.

All kinds of silly and absurd statements are being made about what will become of us if we ever change from the present incompetent method, but can anything give us dirtier, muddier streets or put our children in anything worse than condemned market houses and if you will consider how many years our little girls (not boys) have been attending school at the shack on Dav. street, situated in the midst of negro restaurants and trash dumps, without a single decent outlook, I believe you will think it is time a change is made in the manner of doing things. Boards of aldermen may work for nothing, but if nothing is accomplished where is the gain?

Don't you believe enough money has been wasted in poorly looked after streets and other matters to build several first class school houses?

We seem inclined to haggle over fly specks, but unable to see a pile of filth, at least some of us.

What does it matter about cheap, little politics when you go to pave a street? The tariff issue may be worthy of partisan handling but if these streets of ours are Democratic then for the sake of heaven give us some other kind.

In reality, any party can make its nominations and place its candidates in the field, but the main fact after all is how can we best get our city on a "business basis."

Does a bank or factory or store hire a man because he voted a certain ticket? Could they exist as poltical institutions?

Don't let's try to run Greensboro on a national basis; we are not that big surely, but let's try to get our income spent so it will give us a better, bigger, cleaner, busier town, and let's vote for men who will do it and make them and help them make good.

R. C. HOOD.

P. S.—As a great many cheap insinuations by Mr. Brown, Mr. Morrison (?) and others have been made against the Chamber of Commerce. I want to say that the Chamber of Commerce has a membership of 426, embracing practically all the leading concerns and citizens of the town, and is solvent and trying to do what its officers and members believe best to advertise and advance Greensboro and is going to try to do more.

The provision in the new charter making possible appropriations to advertise the city does not name or apply to the chamber any more than to the Merchants' Association or the Centennial Association or any which may come after and the charter committee simply safeguarded the city's interest by limiting the amount whereas heretofore there was no limit.

Tomorrow's Story Hour At The Library.

The Story Hour in the library on Friday at 4 p. m. is for little children from 6 to 10 years. Miss Florence Pannill will tell the stories this time. Mothers will please remember the hour as there will be a pretty march exactly at four and all the children are asked to take their part in this march.

FOR SELECTION OF SEED CORN

Two Meetings Will be Held in Guilford.

One To Be At Brown Summit On Feb. 10 and High Point On Feb. 11—Score Cards Will Be Used by Farmers and In Some Places Premiums For Best Specimen of Corn Are Given.

The men engaged in farm demonstration work are now busy holding seed corn meetings in the forty counties where the work is carried on. They have announced such meetings for Guilford county to be held at Brown's Summit on Friday, Feb. 10, and at High Point on Saturday, Feb. 11. During the past two seasons such meetings have been held at Greensboro, but this time they will be held at the places named above in order to accommodate farmers who do not find it convenient to go to Greensboro.

An additional and very interesting feature of the meetings this season is the use of score cards by the farmers in judging corn. This is the same work as that given by the A. & M. Colleges in studying corn. Farmers thus really become expert judges of corn. At many places premiums are raised by local people for the best specimens of corn present.

A REMARKABLE FAMILY

A Grand Total of One Hundred and Nine Persons Belong To It.

In a recent issue of the Christian Herald, of New York, there appeared the following over the signature of Mr. W. S. Moore:

"Jere Highfill, of Summerfield, Guilford county, N. C., was born July 7, 1826, and was married to Miss Minerva Moore, July 7, 1846. To then were born nineteen children, twelve girls and seven boys, of whom six boys and five girls are now living. These parents are also living, aged 79 and 84, respectively. To sum up, there are nineteen children (eleven living), fifty-nine grandchildren (thirty-four living now), and nineteen great-grandchildren (seventeen of them living.) Fourteen of their children married, three died early, and two are not married. To this total of ninety-seven descendants must be added twelve stepchildren and one adopted daughter, a grand total of one hundred and nine persons. It should also be stated that there were five of the original children not married and that two others of the married one have had no children. My mother in 1899 had her photograph taken together with the then five living generations, which photograph I have in my room. Among your readers is there another such family record, and if so, where? The oldest of these nineteen children is a minister and the youngest a teacher."

DWIGGINS—LITAKER.

Popular Young Couple United in Marriage Last Evening by Rev. Melton Clark.

Last evening at the First Presbyterian church Mr. Loftin Dwiggins and Miss Ruth Litaker were united in marriage, the ceremony being performed by the bride's pastor, Rev. Melton Clark, in the presence of close friends and relatives.

The bride was becomingly attired in a suit of home broadcloth with picture hat, and carried Bride roses.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Dwiggins left on No. 38 for a trip to Washington and other cities. On their return home they will reside with the bride's parents on Mendenhall street.

The news of their marriage will come as a distinct surprise to the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Dwiggins. The bride is a daughter of Mr. J. F. Litaker, 310 Mendenhall street, and is a lovable young lady. The groom is one of the most popular young barbers of the city.

The Palace of Truth.

The Sophomore class of the State Normal College has arranged to give a play "The Palace of Truth" Friday night for the benefit of the legislative committee when the committee comes to inspect the institution, on Friday afternoon. The public is also invited to witness the performance, and admission fee of 25 cents to be charged.

DRAWING AND THE ARTS AND CRAFTS

The Telegram has received a copy of an article by Prof. W. C. A. Hammel, on "Drawing and Its Relation to the Arts and Crafts of the Public Schools," reprinted from the volume of proceedings, National Educational Association, Boston, July, 1910.

In the course of the article Prof. Hammel says:

"The experiment to teach the crafts without a knowledge of drawing—either mechanical or freehand—has been tried. But 'experience,' as Henry James says, has a way of boiling over and giving us an opportunity to correct our methods.' Experience in a normal college has taught that an attempt to go into any branch of manual arts before some training has been given in interpreting and making drawings, results in confusion, indecision, and ultimate defeat in the work. A trial of training in simple problems in paper-folding and cardboard and the drawing-problems these involve, to those students who had never before had any training in drawing or any branch of the manual arts, immediately proved the sameness of the method. The students found themselves, and from having floundered helplessly about in one craft or another, came to work systematically and intelligently and joyously when they understood drawings and how to make them for themselves."

AS TO COLUMBIA

Mr. Bain Draws Some Conclusions From Recent Act To Fund Bonds of That City.

Editor The Telegram:

The city of Columbia (with its eight months old commission form of government) is being quoted very extensively by our citizens. Reference to the Columbia Record shows that an act has just passed the South Carolina Legislature for the purpose of funding Columbia's $850,000 of 4 per cent. bonds. The funding bonds are to run 30 years and bear interest at 5 per cent, and the Record says this bill "reflects the views of the administration." I do not know the local conditions, but there must be one of two reasons for increasing the interest rate: (1) That the present city government cannot float a 4 per cent. bond; or, (2) That a large premium will be paid on these new bonds. If for the first reason, then there must be a want of confidence in the city's financial condition. If for the second reason, it will be seen that the present commission will have this premium or surplus for public improvement and for making a good financial showing, just for the present.

The difference in interest in these bonds per annum is $8,500. In 30 years it will be $255,000. Add to this the interest on interest for the difference of rate, $191.250, and you will have a total of $446,250 for the 30 years—more than one-half enough to pay the bonds. Quite a handsome showing for commission government, is it not? Is this the price we must pay for "business men" to look after the city's business?

ANNIVERSARY SERVICE

Christian Endeavor Will Celebrate Its Thirtieth Birthday This Evening.

Much interest is felt among the Christion Endeavorers of the city over the anniversary service to be held at Grace Methodist Protestant church this evening, in celebration of the 30th anniversary of the organization of the first Christian Endeavor Society. The young people of the city are especially fortunate in that they will have an opportunity to hear Rev. Howard E. Rondthaler.

Mr. Rondthaler was formerly president of the State Christian Endeavor Union, retiring from its leadership when he left the state, he having been for several years a professor in the Moravian Theological Seminary at Bethlehem, Pa. He returned to North Carolina a few years ago to become the president of Salem Female College. He is a speaker of originality and force, and will no doubt delight his audience. The young people of all denominations, and all others who are interested in young people's work, are cordially invited to attend this service.

How Advertising Pays.

Day before yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock a lady found that she had lost her watch. Yesterday morning at nine it had been returned to her and the finder had received a handsome reward. Thus loser and finder were made happy. Advertisements in the newspapers brought the two in touch with each other. It pays to advertise.

ANNUAL MEETING SECURITY LIFE & ANNUITY COMPANY.

Policyholders Met Yesterday To Hear Reports of Officers and Elect Trustees.

The annual meeting of the policyholders of the Security Life & Annuity Company was held yesterday afternoon in the home office of the company for the purpose of hearing the reports of the officers for the past year and to elect three trustees. The trustees are elected in classes of three, three being elected each year. The terms of Messrs. J. W. Scott, C. C. Taylor and G. A. Grimsley had expired and they were reelected to succeed themselves.

The report of Secretary Grimsley showed that 1910 was the best year since the company began business in 1901, since which time there has been a constant growth of the insurance in force and the assets. The gross assets are $1,217,186.23, an increase for the year of $256,571.32. The surplus as to policyholders is $211,226.10, an increase for the year of $49,437.12. The company has in force on a paid for basis $13,218,329 of insurance, a net increase of insurance for the year of $1,742,803. The company has made an annual increase of $1,500,000 since it began business. The company's premium income for 1910 was $477,238.90, the interest income $52,615.54, and an income from all sources of $530,029.95. There was an excess interest income of $15,811.71 and a mortality experience of 55 per cent. of the expected.

The company has made a remarkable record in the state. It has in force in North Carolina 5,308 policies, amounting to $8,684,674. There are only two or three companies doing business in the state that have this amount of insurance in force in North Carolina. The new business written in North Carolina in 1910 was 1,091 policies, amounting to $1,835,518 of insurance. The premium income in North Carolina was $317,065.60.

The company is now operating in North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, Georgia and Florida and has in force nearly $14,000,000 of insurance. The company has written nearly $800,000 of insurance during the month of January, or over three times the amount written in January, 1910.

The trustees met after the policyholders adjourned and elected the following officers: J. Van Lindley, president; P. H. Hanes, vice president; Geo. A. Grimsley, secretary; J. W. Scott, treasurer; Dr. J. P. Turner, medical director; Dr. W. P. Beall, assistant medical director; C. C. Taylor, manager of agents; A. L. Brooks, attorney; Herbert Leak, cashier; W. J. Horney, auditor; V. B. White, manager policy department; R. G. Lea, home office special agent. The president appointed W. A. Blair, P. H. Hanes, Sr., and J. W. Scott, members of the finance committee.

A FINE LECTURE.

Mr. Cameron Johnson Entertained Large Audience Last Evening.

Yesterday evening the auditorium and galleries of West Market Methodist church were packed to overflowing by a very appreciative audience of Greensboro people who were assembled to hear Mr. Cameron Johnson's most interesting and instructive address on Palestine.

Mr. Johnson speaks without the least physical effort, his voice is clear, his enunciation and diction are perfect, and he has a surprising fund of information on not only the history and archaeology of the Holy Land, but on Bible incidents connected with his subject. He accompanies his lectures with lantern views that are as nearly perfect as modern photography can make them, most of them being colored and true to life.

The lecture was a most enjoyable one and particularly so because of its educational value.

Mr. Johnson will lecture this evening at the Greensboro Female College on English history.

O. E. S. Thimble Club.

The O. E. S. Thimble Club held their semi-monthly meeting yesterday afternoon, Mrs. J. M. Johnson being the hostess. The club members present were Mesdames Dildine, Lampman, Blackburn, Moorefield, Andrews, Morris, and Johnson, Misses Sanders, Nunn, Banner and Johnson. Mrs. Amos Andrews, of New Jersey, Mrs. Cobb, of Providence, R. I.; and Mrs. Dorian Blair, Greensboro, were the invited guests of the club which is growing in enthusiasm and numbers. The afternoon was spent in doing fancy work and exchanging ideas, patterns and new stitches. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess in a two course luncheon.

INCREASE PAY OF LEGISLATORS

Impossible to Serve Without Loss.

Senator Graham Says High Cost of Living Makes It Necessary to Use Private Funds While In Capital City at Present Salary of Legislators—Bill to Prohibit Handling of Intoxicating Liquors by Clubs or Associations.

Raleigh, Feb. 1.—Senator Graham, of Orange, introduces a bill to amend the constitution of North Carolina providing for increasing the compensation of the members of the general assembly to $500 and mileage and if an extra session is held they are to receive $100 for it. The presiding officers of each house are to receive $10 per day and mileage and the same rate during extra sessions. In speaking of his bill Senator Graham says the present high cost of living simply makes it impossible for a man to serve in the legislature without a personal financial loss and that the people of the state ought not to expect their law-makers to make up the deficit of their actual necessary expenses. Another important bill introduced in the Senate is by Senator Cartwright, of Hyde, by request, to establish the North Carolina School for the Feeble Minded. This is a duplicate of the bill introduced in the house by Representative Thompson, of Beaufort. This bill received the endorsement of the North Carolina Association of City School Superintendents in annual session here last week.

Senator Brown, of Columbia, has introduced a bill to prohibit the handling of intoxicating liquors by clubs or associations in the state, this being a measure designed to break up what is known as club locker system.

The question of establishing Avery county out of Mitchell and Caldwell will be decided by the joint senate and house committees on counties, cities and towns Thursday of this week, when it will become known whether or not a favorable report is to be made.

The State Forestry Convention here today was attended by numbers of citizens from Wilmington to Asheville and beyond, sessions being held morning, afternoon and evening. Governor Kitchin welcomed the delegates and the response was by Mayor F. N. Tate, of High Point. Other features of the convention were valuable papers on Forestry Problems in this state by State Forester J. S. Holmes; the Lumberman and Practical Forestry, by J. B. Blades, of New Bern, and the Relation of Water Power to Practical Forestry, by W. S. Lee, vice president of the Southern Power Company, Charlotte. An excellent address was delivered by Mr. A. Gaskill, state forester of New Jersey, and talk by Mr. Thos. P. Ivey, of New Conway, New Hampshire. State Geologist Joseph Hyde Pratt discussed comprehensively the stock law and its relation to forestry. There was a discussion on railroads and their relation to forestry by a number of railroad men and also a general discussion of changes and extensions of the forestry laws for North Carolina that involves precautions against forest fires and the conservation of the growth of trees as the matured timber is being cut and hauled. The Practical Application of Forestry was the subject of a splendid address by F. M. Curran, forester of the Philippine Islands.

AFTER CHARLIE SHARPE.

Deputy Sheriff Crutchfield Goes to Columbia After Prisoner.

Deputy Sheriff Crutchfield left yesterday for Columbia, S. C., after Charlie Sharpe, a young white man, who is wanted here on the charge of seduction under promise of marriage. The crime was alleged to have been committed at Revolution about a year ago, but Sharpe has been making himself scarce ever since. He was recently located in Columbia, but refused to return here without requisition papers. These were procured by Sheriff Jones Tuesday.

The young man is about 28 years of age and the girl he wronged is 18. Deputy Crutchfield is expected to return today with his prisoner.

COOK TALKING AGAIN.

Discredited Pole Chaser Tells Something of the Sufferings Encountered in Search.

New York Times.

Dr. Frederick A. Cook, bland and smiling, took about 50 members of the German Pioneer Literature Club, of which he was the guest of honor last night, back to "that elusive imaginary spot, the North Pole, where we find no pole."

"Mr. Peary and his friends of the arctic trust, by an organized effort, forced a campaign to discredit my achievement," said Dr. Cook. Bringing both hands down on the table with a crack, he shouted:

"The Eskimos were put through a 'third degree' and made to answer leading questions which Mr. Whitney said they did not understand. The best answer to this, and to all of Mr. Peary's charges is that the same people have discredited Mr. Peary in the same way by denying the existence of Crocker Land, and also Mr. Peary's claim of reaching the pole in 1909."

"Dr. Cook then described the torture that must be endured to take observations, saying:

"Five or ten minutes before local noon the observer levels his artificial horizon, and, with sextant in hand, lies down on the snow. A little drift and wind might complicate matters. The fingers are cold, the instrument must be handled with mittens; the cold is such that at best a shiver runs up the spine, the eye blinks with snow glitter and frost. The arms, hands and legs become stiff from cold and inaction.

"Observations taken like this can not be accurate. Why, even the compass, that sheet anchor of the navigator, is as uncertain as other aids to fixing a position in the polar basin.

"The question of error by refraction is one of very great importance. In the Arctic, the problem of refraction presents possible inaccuracies, not of seconds or minutes, but possibly of degrees. Every Arctic traveler has seen in certain atmospheric conditions a dog enlarged to the image of a bear. A raven frequently looks like a man, and a hummock, but 25 feet high a short distance away, will at times rise to the proportions of a mountain. Mirages turn things topsy turvy and the whole polar topography is distorted by optical illusions. Many explorers have seen the returning sun over a sea horizon after the long night, one or two days before the correct time for its appearance. This gives you an error in observation, which can be a matter of 60 miles.

"Here is a tangle in optics, which cannot under the present knowledge of conditions be elucidated, and yet with all these disadvantages the group of armchair geographers of the National Geographic Society pronounces a series of sun altitudes less than seven degrees above the horizon as proof positive of the attainment of the pole. Furthermore, these men are personal friends of Mr. Peary, and the society for whom they act is financially interested in the venture which they indorse. Is this verdict based upon either science or justice or honor?"

SWEARS OFF FOR GOOD.

Young Man Takes Temperance Pledge To Save Fortune.

New York World.

A man entered the office of Chief Magistrate Otto Kempner late yesterday afternoon in the Brooklyn Borough Hall. He was about 35 years old.

"I want to sign the pledge," he said.

"Why, what's the trouble?" asked the magistrate, seeing that the young man was perfectly sober.

"Well, your Honor, it's this way," he began. "For 12 years I have been a drinker. It seems as though a thousand times I have had fortune in the shape of excellent opportunities at my finger tips. Always my chance slipped from my grasp because of drink.

"Now, I have had property worth $12,000 left to me in Erie, Pa., and I want to sign the pledge to keep me from drinking it up. And besides a baby girl of 3 years and the sweetest wife a man could have beg me to stop drinking, and I have concluded that it is best for me to do so."

"Who are you," asked the magistrate.

"I am Nathan A. Elery, and I live at 1449 Sushwick avenue,' he said, "The property was bequeathed to me by an uncle, Norman Morton, who was a wealthy farmer in Erie county, Pennsylvania.

Magistrate Kempner got a blank pledge and started to fill it out. As he came to the time during which the signer would remain abstemious he asked:

"How long?"

"Forever," answered Ellery, and it was written down.

He raised his right hand and in a voice that choked with emotion took the oath.

"Now I will go into business for myself," he said.

"Good luck to you!" said Magistrate Kempner as he shook hands with him.

DAY 762. PHONES NIGHT 1442

The Rivals

By ESTHER VANDEVEER

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

John Andrews and Tom Hutchins were bosom friends till they both fancied the same girl. Before either of them had met Lucy Boughton they were inseparable. Usually the trouble with girls in such cases is that they won't show a preference. Lucy showed a preference for both the friends. One day she would be very sweet to Andrews, the next to Hutchins. There is nothing like uncertainty to sharpen love, and nothing will break up a friendship either between two men or two women than a rivalry for the affections of the same person. So John and Tom first began to show a coolness, then to scowl at each other when they met, and finally they were ready to take each other's heart's blood.

One evening John went to see Lucy and remained with her till 11 o'clock. When he went away, though he had not proposed to her, he considered the matter settled between them. He was unable to support a wife, and this was the reason why he had said nothing about marriage. He intended to see her again soon, confess that he loved her and ask her if she would wait till he could better his affairs.

The very next afternoon he received a shock. Walking along a road, Tom and Lucy passed him in a buggy. Tom scowled at him, but Lucy smiled very sweetly. What did it mean? Was the girl deceiving him? He brooded over the matter, and instead of going to her for information he endeavored to get it from Tom. The next day, meeting Tom, he said:

"Have a pleasant ride yesterday?"

"Yes; very."

"Anything between you and Lucy?"

"What's that to you?"

"A good deal. I'm about to come to an understanding with her."

"I don't know but I'll come to an understanding with her myself. Jack," said Tom, suddenly changing his tone, "let's go into the wood there where no one will see us and have it out. If you make me cry 'nuff' I'll leave the field to you. If you make me cry 'nuff' I take a back seat and let you do the driving."

"Agreed!"

The two young men penetrated a wood nearby, Tom leading the way, till they reached an open space, where he stopped, and they took off their coats and squared up against each other. John drew first blood from his chum's nose, and Tom drew second blood from his chum's lip. Then they both clinched, and Tom very nearly gouged out John's eye, John at the same time biting off a piece of Tom's ear. They fell, John on top.

"Got enough?" he asked.

"No."

Five minutes later Tom got John off and under.

"Got enough?" he asked.

"No."

They couldn't very well kill each other without any weapons except their fists, but they tired each other out. John succeeded in throwing off Tom, but he hadn't the strength to follow up the advantage. Tom lay still—he could neither renew the combat nor rise.

Ten minutes later Tom sat up.

"John," he said, "I got an idea."

John gave a responsive grunt.

"I'm thinking the girl had better decide between us."

"And I'm thinking you'd better have thought of that before instead of proposing to come here and have it out."

"Let's get up and go home."

"I'm willing."

They got up and dragged themselves away. They were about to climb a fence to cross a field when they saw the object of their quarrel in the center of the inclosure. A bull was behind her, and she had evidently arrested his attention. Presently he began to trot toward her.

"You've said you're about to fix it up with her," said John. "You better run for her before the bull gores her."

"I thought you were counting on her. I wouldn't stand in your way for the world."

Meanwhile the bull was galloping behind the unconscious girl. Death did not stare her in the face, but in the back. Without interference the bull would surely kill her.

Suddenly a man with a pitchfork jumped over the fence on the opposite side of the field, ran for the bull and turned him against himself. With a few jabs the man put the bull to flight. Lucy had turned, and when the bull left she fell into the man's arms.

Here was a common enemy to unite the rivals. With one accord they got over the fence and hobbled toward Lucy. They were so intent upon seeing her in another's arms they forgot that they were covered with dirt and blood. Disabled as they were, it required some time for them to reach their objective point, and when they did Lucy had disengaged herself and when she saw them had so far recovered from her fright as to burst out laughing.

"Howde, boys?" said the man who had saved her life. "Been fighting?"

"Yes!" John admitted sullenly.

"Reckon it's been about Lucy. I've heard about you two. But you needn't trouble yourselves; she's mine."

The rivals looked at Lucy.

"Sorry I hadn't told you before," she said. "It would have saved your clothes."

Well, New Orleans will still have her Mardi Gras, which is fortunately still under Democratic control.

It is naturally to be supposed that when woman dons pantaloons she will also carry the purse.

What an amusing incongruity it will be to call it a Panama Exposition if it does go to San Francisco!

Readers of the Atlanta Journal should find little difficulty in successfully passing an examination for the mail service.

Is there not one lone friend who will have the courage to speak some kindly word in behalf of near-beer in its dying hour?

The House of Representatives votes to give the Exposition to San Francisco. Let us be thankful that she cannot be given the canal.

A number of Greensboro citizens returned yesterday from Raleigh, where they went Tuesday to attend county day exercises in the Legislature.

The wife of Governor Mann, of Virginia, says that her entertainments without intoxicants are fully as enjoyable as were those of former regimes where they were served. She might have added that the day after is even more so.

It might be suggested to High Point that while she is in Raleigh she might memorialize the Legislature for a small strip of Wake and settle down without further trouble and expense. The News and Observer might cede them Rhamkatte which would make an excellent county seat.

Col. Roberson could have been zealous for High Point without abusing Greensboro. His bitter, unjust and uncalled for handling of Greensboro in his speech before the committee at Raleigh was quite the sensation of the campaign for the new county. Perhaps Greensboro ought not to complain, however, since it is safe to conclude that Col. Roberson's speech will prove a boomerang to the cause which he advocated.

Mr. Dillard wants the Legislature to exempt Cherokee county from the act of 1909 which allows sheriffs $20 for each distillery seizure, and declares that there has been nearly $2,000 paid to deputies for smashing old pots, when there have been but two blockade distilleries in the county in two years. According to this the county should have paid out only $40. The Legislature can hardly be of more effective service than to let Cherokee go ahead and learn by experience. She is a very easy mark, indeed.

The famous Hope diamond, which has for centuries been passing from the hand of one person to another, it having adorned the persons of queens, emperors, kings, and even at one time a sultan of Turkey, has passed into the hands of a society woman of Washington. The price paid for the jewel was $300,000. Three detectives will accompany her when the diamond is to be worn, and upon her return home it will be deposited over night in a safe deposit vault. Now the remarkable and astounding thing is, that all the cost of this show is to be borne by the owner of a couple of newspapers, who happens to be the husband.

OF INTEREST TO THE SOUTH.

Mr. S. Wilbur Corman, of the advertising firm of N. W. Ayer & Son, has, without saying so in so many words, expressed the greatest difficulty in the way of the South's rapid growth—she is not advertising enough nor in the proper way. Advertising is Mr. Corman's business, but every word he uttered in a recent Atlanta address is true.

The writer only the other day had this very subject in mind and out of curiosity went into two or three stores in an endeavor to find a cracker different from those of the Uneeda brand, but practically everything of this kind was found to be in a package bearing the name of the National Biscuit Co., the concern that makes the Uneeda crackers. There are numerous cracker factories throughout the South, but they are not known extensively outside of the counties in which they are operated, and it is because they do not put their goods up in attractive packages and advertise them.

There is no table syrup in the world better than could be and is being made right here in the South, and yet simply because of aggressive and attractive advertising by certain firms in the West and Northwest we do not seem to know how to call for anything but their particular brands of corn syrup; and if we did call for other syrups the grocer would not know anything about them.

There are being made in the South as good brands of cotton hosiery, knit underwear, and shoes as anywhere in the North, and yet we are prompted to call for those that are made in New York and Massachusetts, simply because we see the names in almost every magazine and newspaper we pick up.

It is said that Concord, N. C., can make enough towels to supply every hotel in America, but Concord herself is not known outside the State, to say nothing of her towels.

If one great industry in North Carolina, for instance, would start an advertising campaign like that of say Karo corn syrup or Shawknit hosiery, in five years the State would show a population of 3,000,000. This question of advertising is as vital to a great success as buying rolling stock and machinery and building plants.

Palm Sunday in certain places is called "Fig Sunday" from the custom of eating figs on this day, as snapdragons on Christmas eve, plum pudding on Christmas day, oranges and barley sugar on St. Valentine's eve, pancakes on Shrove Tuesday, salt codfish on Ash Wednesday, frumenty on "Mothering Sunday" (mid-Lent), cross buns on Good Friday, gooseberry tart on Whitsunday, goose on Michaelmas day, nuts on Allhallows, and so on.—New York American.

FROM MR. LOVE.

He Objects to Power Being Conferred on Superintendent of Schools.

Editor Telegram:

I made the charge that the proposed charter was too autocratic. Mr. Broadhurst does not deny, but attempts to justify. We fear Mr. Broadhurst's zeal outruns his judgment for we cannot admit that he has read the great Magna Charta to no purpose for if he was defending a chicken thief he would demand a bill of particulars and if not given he would at once demand a nonsuit. But take a case of a soldier, who is almost a nonentity who cannot be punished for a violation of military discipline except by a court martial and this subject to review by those higher in command, even in some cases up to the President. But Mr. Broadhurst attempts to defend Sec. 23, which is absolute and autocratic. Now to illustrate what I want to say I am, with high regard, going to use names. Now it is not necessary for me to state who planned the State Normal. I wish to use the name of Mr. Bernau as his will answer two purposes. I don't know but hope he has a daughter or even daughters. In his ambition to educate same he sends to the State Normal. His daughter graduates after a four years' course. On graduation day Mr. Foust comes along with scroll ornamented with the college colors. When Mr. Foust reached Miss Bernau he stops and congratulates her on her fidelity to her duty and studies and in token the state hands you this certificate that will be your passport anywhere in the state schools for the next succeeding five years, and no one has the power to take this from you and while it is tangible it pertains to a developed mind and heart that is yours, by your compliance with our rules and regulations in acquiring the same. Now being properly equipped—makes application, is accepted, enters on her duties happy as a bird, but lo! here comes along the superintendent probably cross, but anyway says to Miss Bernau "You are peremptorily discharged. She goes home changed from that happy condition to one of despair. Mr. Bernau goes to dinner, finds his daughter in tears, gets the facts and says, I will correct this, I will bring out that safety—the referendum—my daughter shall be vindicated, almost falls into his automibile and away to the Normal thinking best to start from there; relates to Mr. Foust what has occurred. Mr. Foust replys "this is rather a deplorable situation and I very much regret it but we thought in getting up the new charter that there should be an autocratic power conferred and would rather not sign for your referendum." By this time Mr. Bernau is thoroughly mad and his feelings can be better imagined than described and being so greatly excited he barely misses a telephone pole on his return. But on reflection he thought best not to apply to any supporters of the new charter as they were already committed, so he went out among the common people, especially them that had daughters; after much worry he got the necessary three or four hundred. He goes on to this high court and presents his referendum. Mr. Superintendent appears, thrusts the charter in the face of Mr. Bernau and the high court—"here is my authority for what I have done and there is no appeal so I defy you." The court says to Mr. Bernau, you have our sympathy and while our powers in most cases are absolute we can do nothing for you. Mr. Bernau goes home to his daughter who is hurt in purse and name and Mr. Bernau files away his referendum for future meditation as to its inefficiency in great need.

While in the family circle at home reading and commenting on Mr. Broadhurst's article my little grandson spoke and said he read in his book something written by Jefferson that every man should have a fair trial and be faced by his accusers. Vote down the commission form if for nothing else than this pernicious doctrine.

DON'T BE THIN.

No Need of Being Scrawny, Weak and Emaciated

In these days of physical culture and health foods, one would hardly expect to see any thin, weak, emaciated people, but in spite of all this, nearly every person you meet is thin and scrawny.

Good healthy flesh can only be gained by the use of the proper food with thorough assimilation of the fatgiving elements. Nine people out of ten in order to weigh as much as they ought and be perfectly healthy, should use Samose, the great flesh-forming food. Weigh yourself before commencing to use these little tablets, and see how your weight increases.

Samose has valuable flesh-forming and tissue building properties, and when it is assimilated with the food, it causes the flesh-making elements to be retained and the weight is naturally increased.

Howard Gardner, the popular druggist, has sold in the last few weeks, a great many packages of Samose, every one with his personal guarantee to refund the money if it did not give satisfaction and has had but one person ask for the money back.

A PRIME FACTOR IN BUSINESS

Business men find a banking account absolutely necessary to the proper transaction of their business accounts.

Besides affording the greatest convenience, and assuring the dispatch in the transfers of moneys, accounts paid by checks insures the payer against any possible loss or wrong payment, and when canceled, is the best receipt to be had. But in addition to the necessity of a bank account, there are many ways in which association with a strong bank can further the interests of any business.

Come in and talk the matter over with us.

FRECKLES GONE

"Simple Remedy from Howard Gardner Removed Them," Says Cociety Lady.

"The best skin specialists told me that nothing would remove my freckles and that I would carry them to my grave," said a well known society woman, "but I fooled them all with new drug, othine double strength, that I bought at Howard Gardner's which completely cleared my skin and gave me a fine complexion."

The action of othine is really remarkable, for when applied at night, many of the freckles disappear entirely by morning, and the rest have begun to fade. An ounce is usually all that is needed, even for the worst case.

Be sure to ask Howard Gardner for the double strength othine, as this is sold under a guarantee of money back if it fails to remove the freckles.

Foley's Kidney Pills are a reliable remedy for backache, rheumatism and urinary irregularities. They are tonic in action, quick in results and afford a prompt relief from all kidney disorders. Howard Gardner.

A scientist says the human race is more than 18,000,000 years old—yet some specimens don't know enough to close the door on a zero day.

PNEUMONIA FOLLOWS A COLD.

But never follows the use of Foley's Honey and Tar, which checks the cough and expels the cold. M. Stockwell, Hannibal, Mo., says: "It beats all the remedies I ever used. M'CLELLAN IN PRINCETON CHAIR

Martin and Metz are Raising $50,000 Fund For Professorship.

New York World.

George B. McClellan, former Mayor of New Yory City, is to be professor of either public affairs or political economy at Princeton University unless the plans of his friends fail.

It was announced that arrangements have been made for founding the chair in the university which McClellan will occupy. He is likely to take up his new duties next fall at the latest.

The sum needed to endow the new professorship is set at $50,000, and some of the former Mayor's friends several weeks ago undertook to raise this sum. Among those who were most active in the work are James J. Martin, whom McClellan appointed City Chamberlain, at a salary of $12,000 a year, and former Comptroller Herman A, Metz.

Mr. Metz made the statement that he understood nearly all of the $50,000 had been subscribed and that the project would certainly go through.

SPEEDY RELIEF FROM KIDNEY TROUBLE.

"I had an acute atack of Bright's disease with inflammation of the kidneys and bladder and dizziness," says Mrs. Cora Thorp, Jackson, Mich. "A bottle of Foley's Kidney Remedy overcame the attack, reduced the inflammation, took away the pain and made the bladder action normal. I wish everyone could know of this wonderful remedy." Howard Gardner.

An Apprehension.

"What do you think of this idea of letting baseball players appear in vaudeville?"

"I don't know how it will work out," replied the fan. "But I'm afraid that when the season comes around some fellow will forget himself and start up a ballad when he ought to be sliding to second."—Washington Star.

This is what Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Ledbetter said on January 22:

"Gentlemen: Last night our daughter, age five years, was taken suddenly with pneumonia. We used 1-2 box of Mother's Joy as directed, and today she is almost well, thanks to the good remedy so near at hand and so cheap. This was a violent case, and hope you success. 520 Laura avenue."

Tortured For 15 Years.

by a cure-defying stomach trouble that baffled doctors, and resisted all remedies he tried, John W. Modders, of Moddersville, Mich., seemed doomed. He had to sell his farm and give up work. His neighbors said, "he can't live much longer." "Whatever I ate distressed me," he wrote, "till I tried Electric Bitters, which worked such wonders for me that I can now eat things I could not take for years. Its surely a grand remedy for stomach trouble." Just as good for the liver and kidneys. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c at Faris-Klutz Drug Co.

FROM MR. HINES.

He Is Still In Doubt As To Who Would Pay For Curbing Under Proposed Charter.

The Telegram has received the following from Mr. Chas. A. Hines:

Will you kindly publish in your paper the section of the new charter that provides that the city shall pay for curbing? Or does it say that the property owner shall pave and repair as the commissioners may direct?

Very respectfully,
CHAS. A. HINES.

The Telegram yesterday morning printed the portion of section 88, pertaining to the paving and improving of streets as set forth in the proposed charter, which Mr. Hines had said had not been amended, the article showing that certain words had been stricken from the section by the mass meeting on motion of Judge Douglas and it looked as though anyone could interpret the meaning of the amended section.

Section 59 of the present city charter reads "That every owner of a lot on a street, if so ordered by the Board of Aldermen, shall improve, curb, pave, or repair in such manner as the Board of Aldermen may direct, such sidewalk as far as it may extend along such lot; and shall also, if so directed by the Board of Aldermen, macadamize, pave or otherwise improve the gutters adjoining the said sidewalk and one-fourth of the street adjoining," etc., the remainder of the section setting forth how the work is to be done and prescribing how the cost of doing the work can be collected if the city does it. So it is seen that the section as originally offered by the committee was taken bodily from the present charter with the words Board of Commissioners substituted for Board of Aldermen. Judge Douglas' amendment struck out of line two the words, "improve, curb," and lines six and seven the words "the gutter adjoining the said sidewalk and."

The city at present pays for the curbing and it appeared that with the section amended by striking out the word "curb" there could be no possible way of construing the section so it would imply that the property owners were to pay for curbing. As the question was a legal one Mr. Justice was asked yesterday regarding the meaning of section 88 as amended and he replied as follows:

"In reply to your inquiry as to whether the city will do its curbing I have to say that according to my recollection you have got your facts exactly right in this morning's Telegram. Mr. Hines' partner, Judge Shaw, thought when he drew the proposed charter in 1909 that it was necessary to provide in the charter that the property owners should do the curbing in order to relieve the city of it. He therefore drew the section to read that the property owners should be required to pay for the curbing. The last committee took this section as drwan by Judge Shaw, but the mass meeting last fall amended the report of our committee by striking out of the section the words which authorize the city to require curbing to be done and paid for by the property owners. This seems to me to be simple in that so far as the curbing is concerned the law would be such that the city would have to pay for it now."
